

Personal statement

Dear Admissions Committee,

I am excited to apply for the undergraduate program in Civil Law at the University of Memphis, driven by my passion for justice, human rights, and community service. As a multifaceted individual with a background in business administration, desktop publishing, and digital communication, I am eager to leverage my unique blend of skills to make a meaningful impact in the legal field.

Currently, I am pursuing a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration at the National Open University of Nigeria (NOUN), where I have developed a solid understanding of business principles, management, and entrepreneurship. Additionally, I hold a Diploma in Desktop Publishing, which has refined my creative skills and attention to detail.

Recently, I completed a training certificate program in Digital Communication and Team Management from La Plage Meta Verse.

I also enrolled in the ALX eight week VA (Virtual Assistant) program just to broaden my horizon, In case I found myself in that position someday. This certification has equipped me with essential skills in effective communication, leadership, and teamwork, enhancing my ability to collaborate and drive results.

Beyond academics, my creative side has led me to acquire knowledge in hair styling and hairdressing. This skill has taught me attention to detail, creativity, and customer service on how to manage customer's wants and choices, also valuable assets in any profession.

My desire to study Civil Law stems from a deep-seated desire to advocate for social justice and promote human rights. I am drawn to the University of Memphis's strong reputation for academic excellence, innovative research, and commitment to community service.

Pursuing Civil Law will enable me to develop a comprehensive understanding of legal frameworks, critical thinking, and problem-solving skills. I aspire to specialize in areas such as property law, contract law, or human rights law, leveraging my business background to provide unique perspectives.

Upon graduation, I plan on contributing to the country's legal system, advocating for social justice and promoting human rights. My ultimate goal is to establish a non-profit organization focused on providing legal aid and education to underprivileged communities.

Thank you for considering my application. I am confident that the University of Memphis's Civil Law program will provide me with the ideal platform to achieve my academic and professional objectives.

Sincerely,

[Fidelia Lade]
